CHECK OUT OUR BRAND NEW FOREIGN RIGHTS CATALOGUE!

Petit à Petit was first established in 1997 and has aimed ever since to create access to culture through the reading of comic books.

This is why most of our publications takes the form of what we call Docu-Comics. It is an innovative and a great new way to make comic books. The idea is to mix short comics with beautiful pages of documentaries to introduce to a certain subject: art history, mythology, poetry... The reader can easily learn more about his favorite topics or topics he is not familiar with in a really fun way.

Most of those Docu-Comics are drawn by a collective of artists, which means that when one story is over, the next one starts with a new style. It allows the reader to discover all the different ways you can work with a same subject.

Besides the Docu-Comics, Petit à Petit also publishes great albums of fiction which are all very unique in their own way and are the reflection of French artists' creativity.

This catalogue will help you discover our newest publications. Get in touch if you are interested in our titles or want to learn more about us!
